INTRODUCTION

Another year of activities as a church has passed into history. And again the Mennonite Year-Book and Directory comes to you with a record of the changes that have taken place in our congregations, conferences, boards, institutions, Sunday-schools, church-wide committees, and the roster of our ordained church officials. But while the statistical information of the Year Book is one of its most valuable features, about one third of its space is devoted to informational articles which describe the march of progress of many phases of our church work during the past year. We feel sure our readers will find much of interest and profit in these articles.

It is always interesting to check over facts and figures as the years go on to see whether as a church we are going forward, standing still, or retrograding. Numerically this is comparatively easy if one has access to such statistics as the Year Book provides. A number of mission points have been added to those already listed, showing that our home mission work is growing. Work in the foreign field is gradually advancing, although no new areas were opened during the past year. During the year two workers were sent to Spain to administer relief to the needy in that war-stricken country. A more detailed write-up will be found elsewhere. The Mission and Relief contributions for the calendar year totaled $209,596.02, a gain over last year of $27,408.86.

The table of statistics for our Sunday schools reveals the fact that there are now 544 Sunday schools conducted by our church, with a total enrollment of 69,502. At the present rate of gain another year will show that we have passed well beyond the 70,000 mark in our Sunday-school constituency.

It is always interesting to note the total membership of our church. The last quarter of a century has shown a constant and decided growth, substantial but not phenomenal. Our total membership now stands at 55,261, with 48,272 in the United States alone. Canada furnishes 4,922, while foreign countries—India, South America, and Africa—supply the rest. It is encouraging that as a whole we have made substantial gains, although not as great as in some other years.

One new church institution has sprung up during the year, or rather we should say an older one has been rebuilt. We have reference to the Old People's Home near Marshallville, Ohio. This was burned down about twenty years ago, but is now being rebuilt, as an article by Bro. Allgyer on another page will show. We are glad for the interest which our church takes in caring for her aged and infirm.

The Summary of Events shows that many of our church leaders answered the last call during 1937. It is encouraging to note, however, that the record of ordinations reveals that more new soldiers have been called to the ranks than have been called to higher service above. Irrespective of time and the inevitable changes which it brings, the Lord's work will always go on—for there will still be faithful believers standing at their posts of duty when He comes again to take all His own to Himself.

All material has been carefully revised and brought up to date as nearly as possible. We believe the facts and figures are as nearly accurate as statistics can be made to be. However, no doubt some errors appear, even though every reasonable effort is made to guard against them. It will be a help to us if you report errors and changes to the editor as soon as you know about them.

Our Year-Book deals with facts and figures, largely. It shows the growth and development of the Church from the standpoint of what man can see. May it be blessedly true that the Lord also has seen progress in our lives as He looks into our hearts and sees the thoughts and intents of our hearts.

PHASES OF MISSION BOARD ACTIVITIES IN 1937

By J. N. Kaufman

To state that the Mission Board's activities for 1937 have been about the same as in previous years would be neither enlightening nor accurate. True, certain routine matters maintain a marked similarity through the years, but the big problems in a growing work involving solemn responsibilities have a way of remaining distinct and different from those of former years. Even the same problems carried forward to succeeding years assume a character different from what they seemed when they first demanded attention.

The annual meeting of the Mission Board is always an event—a mile-stone in the forward march of events connected with the work. The last one held at West Liberty, Ohio, in June was no exception for it, too, carried a high spiritual atmosphere as in former years. Many went from that meeting back to their homes and their work resolved to serve our Master better and to be more serious in the spreading of the Gospel not only among the lost in far-off fields but in the homeland and in our own communities and neighborhoods.

At this meeting of the Mission Board some changes in the Constitution were authorized with the view of enabling it to function more effectively. There has not been sufficient time to give these a proper trial although they are having the attention of the Executive Committee since the annual meeting. The missionaries who have been appointed to their fields at the annual meeting have left for their fields: Bro. and Sister Amasa Kauffman to assume direction of the Mexican work in the Southwest; Bro. T. K. Hershey and wife, Bro. Elvin Snyder and wife, Sister Selena Gamber, Bro. William Hallman and wife (the latter new missionaries) to Argentina; and S. J. Hostetler and wife, Dr. Jonathan Yoder and wife (the latter new missionaries) to India. These workers greatly strengthened the depleted forces in both fields.

The work and workers maintained by the Board may be tabulated as follows:

India
No. of stations	9
No. of missionaries (on field)	29
Argentina
No. of stations	7
No. of missionaries (on field)	20
Homeland
No. of stations	12
No. of workers	33

The Mission Board owns, at home and abroad, properties valued at about three quarters of a million dollars. In addition to these properties the Board holds and controls, as part of its assets, funds totaling a half million more. These resources consist in endowments, annuities, and real estate. It takes plenty of business acumen to see that all the Board's real estate is productive. Some of the farms owned and controlled by the Board are not doing so well. But on the whole the rents and earnings total even better than the interest from corresponding mortgages and endowments.

Progress on the construction of the Old People's Home in Ohio is interrupted for lack of funds. Had it been possible to carry out the original plans the Home would by now be completed and paid for. But a required change to a fireproof building in accordance with a state law plus considerably enhanced building material and labor costs have made a complete change in the financial outlook. The difficulty is not insurmountable but the Executive Committee of the Board is struggling to adjust itself to the changed situation and is working to effect a satisfactory plan of procedure.

The Executive and Mission Committees in joint session carefully planned for the Spanish relief work authorized at the annual meeting. Relief work in Spain must carry with it the Mennonite Christian testimony and it must be nonpartisan, providing relief for the suffering women and children on either side of the political struggle. After satisfying itself on these important points, the Relief Committee of the Board perfected its plans for workers and for funds as well as for administrative work on the field. The brethren Levi Hartzler, until recently superintendent of the Home Mission, Chicago, and D. Parke Lantz, missionary on furlough from Argentina, sailed for Spain on November 3, 1937.

Other committees of the Board were not idle. The Mission Study Committee was busy furthering the preparation of mission study books. Some of them have become available to the public during the year. They are valuable both from the angle of giving missionary information and as historical references of the work of the church. Other books in the course of preparation will soon be added to the list of available missionary literature. The Sewing Circle Committee continued the support of missionaries in South America and India besides sponsoring large shipments of clothing to the needy in various places. And we must not forget the children—large number of them throughout the church—who, while not officially connected with the Mission Board, annually take the quarters and the savings boxes with the view of providing money for the work of the Lord. This year as last year they will have given for mission work nearly nine hundred dollars. The Mission Board is glad to enlist the help of so many willing junior workers. God bless them!

The work undertaken by the church through the Mission Board is a work of faith. True, plans are made, budgets are prepared which seem reasonable and proper but entire dependence on God is our rule. He works in the hearts of His people and moves them to serve Him as He directs. Their prayers and free-will offerings sustain the work and workers as the Gospel is proclaimed throughout the world. This knowledge cheers the heart of many a missionary in lonely and difficult outposts who know that God does provide for all their needs.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE CROSS

The enigma of life is insoluble as ever. No philosophy of life has ever succeeded in solving it. Good things come to bad men, and bad things come to good men. True men are rejected as hypocrites, and false men are hailed as saints. And the strangest of all things is the life we live in this world. But one thing settles all questions; and that is the Cross of Jesus Christ. The Cross solves the enigma of life, and makes all true philosophy of life. It is the key to the satisfactory solution of all the knotty problems of life. Walking in the light of the Cross, we stagger not, though confronted with the biggest inconsistencies of life.—The Faith.

THE WORK AMONG THE MEXICANS

By Amasa H. Kauffman

The work among the Mexicans in southern Texas is somewhat new to most of our people. We are sure there are many who would like to know what has been done in the last year and what the prospects are for future work. In this article we will try to give the information which we believe will interest our people and help them to understand the work of our church in this field.

Many of you will remember the prospecting tour made by Bros. Wm. G. Detweiler and I. K. Hershey. They were sent by the Mission Board to "spy out the land" preparatory to opening up the work among the Mexicans. They covered the entire territory from southern Texas to California. After a careful survey of the field, they came to the conclusion that southern Texas was the most needy field. They found other needy places, but the one best adapted for our people to enter was the district from San Antonio south to the Mexican border.

After deciding to enter this field, the Board sent Bro. and Sister T. K. Hershey to open up the work and prepare the way for other workers. They toured the field as much as possible during their short stay here. They entered towns and cities preaching the Gospel, and distributed tracts and portions of Scripture. They also gathered information and data of the towns and cities which they entered. This information is in our possession and will be helpful in our work, for it gives us the names and number of denominations working among the Mexicans and the prospective places for us to open up work.

A Group of Mexicans with Bro. and Sister Alwine. All Attend Sunday School at Normanna, Texas.

The Man on the Left Is a Full-blooded Indian, Aged 100 Years. The Other Two Are a Mother and Her Son Who Walk over Four Miles to Church.

A Sunday school was started at Normanna which is a small town not far from Tuleta where there is a small Mennonite Church. The work at Normanna was started largely through the influence of a Mennonite Mexican brother. This brother joined the Tuleta congregation a number of years ago, but perhaps because of racial differences, did not attend services regularly. He, however, is well versed in the Bible and is able to teach it to his friends. With his help the work at Normanna has made very satisfactory progress. As many as fifty have been in attendance, and the interest is still growing.

Bro. and Sister David C. Alwine from Pennsylvania came to Texas last winter to help in the work among the Mexicans. They are now in charge of the work at Normanna. Bro. John Leatherman, also from Pennsylvania, spent the summer here helping in the work. He is now in school at Goshen, Indiana, but plans to return to this field.

We are glad to report that nine Mexicans have expressed their desire to unite with the church. They are now being instructed, and as soon as they show evidence that they are ready for baptism, they will be received into the church.

We are sure it will be of interest to you to know a bit more about this class of converts. The youngest of the class is nine years old and the oldest, if he lives until next March, will be a hundred years old. He is a full blooded Indian. He manifests a real desire to know more about the Bible, and seems very sincere in the step he has taken. Another interesting member of the class is an old lady who is in the eighties. She shows her sincerity through her desire to be present in our services. When she has no other way to get to the services she walks; she lives between four and five miles from the schoolhouse where the services are held. Last Sunday, Oct. 31, she with her son, who is in the sixties, walked to the place of service in the morning and stayed for Sunday school in the afternoon. We believe these people have responded because someone lived and taught the Word of God. There are hundreds of others who will accept Christ just as these have, if the Word is taught to them.

In order to reach these people, especially the older people who do not read, we must know their language. The language many of them speak is different from the language spoken in Mexico. The difference is very much like that of Pennsylvania Dutch and German. Some Mexicans have told us they understand English better than they do pure Spanish.

Sister Kauffman and I were appointed, by the Board at their annual meeting held near West Liberty, Ohio, to take charge of the work in this new field. We arrived at Tuleta, Texas, on June 26, 1937. Bro. T. K. Hershey met us there and during the following week, introduced us to the work. After showing us some of the territory and explaining to us what he had done and what the plans were for us, we selected a place to study language. The city of Laredo, which is ninety per cent Mexican and has a population of 45,000 is the place where we have been studying.

We have gotten acquainted with the better class of Mexicans as well as the poorer class. We have also found them to be as fine a class of people as can be found anywhere when Christ has come into their lives. On the other hand, where Satan has full sway, these people live very low. This is again the story of what Jesus Christ and the Gospel do in changing the lives of individuals. We are hoping that this work of transforming lives might go on, and that thousands of these people who live in darkness might receive the Light.

Our plans are to open work wherever possible, not only in towns and cities, but in rural sections, too. We know of rural sections where perhaps a dozen families live, and in one instance have been asked to come and open work. There is a schoolhouse available and we plan to go to these people soon. There are Mexicans living in every town and city. The percentage varies, but in many instances, half of the population is Mexican, and as a rule they live in separate sections. Most of them are Catholic by birth, but many of them have lost confidence in that religion.

We are very glad for the interest that the church is showing in this work and trust that through the efforts put forth, many of these benighted people will be saved.

INDIAN MISSION

By J. D. Graber

"If thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence." This is our feeling far out on the battle front of Christ's kingdom. If we could not be assured of His presence with us we would not stay in India. But this is the Lord's vineyard, and with the assurance that He has called us definitely to work here and aware of the tokens of His abiding presence and blessing He grants us from moment to moment, we have completed another year of witness and service in India.

Preaching

The Gospel was preached in numberless villages and homes during the year. The villages nearer to the main and outstations were visited regularly and those farther out were touched by the missionaries and Indian coworkers on tour. Active opposition was seldom met with, and everywhere the people listened attentively. Much of this seeming tolerance is born of apathy and indifference to their spiritual condition, but here and there were those who showed enough interest to inquire carefully into the claims of the Gospel, and some came the whole way to confession and church membership.

Low Caste Response

The outcaste groups showed particular interest in the Gospel. In Drug twelve were baptized from among a group of Garas. In other parts of the field Maharas, Satnamis, and other low castes showed a great interest. We still have faith that these may come in large numbers at sometime, but we must be content to leave visible results in God's hand.

Volunteer Evangelism

In the church much thought was given during the year to volunteer evangelism. The Evangelistic Samaj, which had been an arrangement by which missionaries and Indian brethren cared for all the evangelistic work of the Mission co-operatively, was discontinued at the first of the year, and in its place the Indian churches decided to work at evangelism in each congregation separately by the volunteer method. Much more might have been done, but the fact remains that in nearly every congregation more or less of real volunteer evangelism was actually carried on. It is really encouraging to see how many lay members are happy to assist in this work.

Pastoral Oversight

The church has also set herself to the task of making a proper provision for pastoral work. The ministers' meetings and members' meetings in the various congregations have been working diligently on trying to work out a satisfactory plan for presentation at our next conference for the appointment and support of pastors.

Ordination

By conference permission the Maradeo congregation voted to ordain Deacon Persadi to the ministry. The ordination is to take place at our Annual Spiritual Life Conference which is to be held at Maradeo between Christmas and New Year.

Mangal Tarai Farm Colony

During the year the farm colony at Mangal Tarai has been established. Thirty five people are living on the plot and have begun their struggle against the jungle in an effort to establish themselves as farmers in this new valley. Conditions are primitive and the work has all the hardships of pioneering, but the settlers see visions of future fields and homes, so they keep on.

Schools—Pastor's Course

The enrollment has increased in all our schools, and we feel certain that the quality of work done in practically all these schools has been improved. A special feature of the Dhamtari Academy has been the four-month course for ministers and deacons, held at Dhamtari from July 6 to October 28. The brethren who attended the course feel thankful for this opportunity for intensive study and testify to much practical help and inspiration received.

Medical

The medical work also has prospered. The surgical and medical wards at our Dhamtari Hospital are usually well-filled, and an ever-growing number of patients come for healing and attention from the ones who serve in the name of Christ. The Leper Clinic work from Sankra has grown in size and influence, and the enrollment at the Shantipur Leper Home has steadily increased until the figure stands at well over 400 at the close of the year. This healing touch in the name of Jesus must leave its impression on the hundreds upon hundreds whom it reaches.

Hindi Mission History

During the year the manuscript for a history of our Mission in the Hindi language has been prepared, and it is hoped to publish it in book form by 1938. Our first generation of Christian workers and leaders is still with us, and it was thought opportune to prepare such a history before it will pass away along with the ones who hold it within the storehouse of their memory and experience. Such a book, we feel, will also be helpful to the new generation who know little of the beginning of the work in their own church and mission.

The work of the year has not been spectacular but we have been certain that hitherto hath the Lord helped us, and in this we take courage to move forward into the year ahead.

ARGENTINE MENNONITE MISSION

By J. W. Shank

Realizing that the work of the mission is the work of the Lord and that we as workers are in the service of our King, we feel indeed unworthy as we reflect upon the accomplishments of the past year. It is impossible for us to feel fully satisfied with our accomplishments. How well we know that in one way or another we might have done better. But God has been patient with us in our shortcomings, and in gratitude to Him we resolve each year to walk with Him more faithfully, and try harder.

The year has been trying for the missionaries in a number of respects. Being so short of workers, all have had to shoulder too much. The result usually manifests itself in inefficient work or a break in health. We are glad to report that at least no one in the group is sick, though some are very much worn down.

The work has been more difficult for several reasons. Bad crops in the western part of the district caused people to be unsettled. Some went to distant provinces looking for work. Others moved away entirely, leaving some of the congregations in a pitiable state, almost without members. Some churches could not pay their contributions, thus discouraging somewhat the hopes we had of carrying forward our 20-year plan. Indifference and worldliness in some cases caused decreased church attendance and a smaller number of baptisms than in some former years. Shortage of workers made it impossible to do any active work with the tent and Bible coach. The death of a native pastor and absence of two missionary families left several congregations without resident pastors. Such a situation has a tendency to discourage some of those who were once interested.

Another cause of difficulty is the increased efforts of the Catholics against our work. While their special efforts, we believe, are just temporary, yet they are sufficient to affect the people in general, increasing their fears and suspicions of any non-Catholic worship.

On the other hand there are some things that give us courage and hope. In our recent evangelistic campaigns there was manifested new zeal and effort on the part of the members, and quite a number of people made confession. In a number of towns there are classes for converts being held preparatory for baptism. Since the last report the orphanage home is completed and has been occupied for almost a year. We had a fair crop on the truck farm. This was a great help in keeping down the expenses of the institution.

During the year we published about

215,000 tracts in our printery. These are scattered abroad to bring the Gospel news to people in many parts of the republic. The Bible school closed its annual session at the end of October. Six students continued throughout the year with the regular course.

It is with pleasure that we await the arrival of the group of missionaries on November 10th: Bro. and Sister T. K. Hershey and Sister Selena Gamber, who are returning from furloughs, and Bro. and Sister William E. Hallman, new missionaries. Those who are on furlough now are Bro. and Sister William Lauver and Bro. and Sister D. Parke Lantz. As we write these lines the missionaries on the field are getting ready their reports for the coming mission council next week.

SPANISH RELIEF

By John L. Horst

In the summer of 1936 Spain became involved in a Civil War which proved to be a prolonged struggle. After the war had continued for some time, reports reached this country that there was a great need in Spain among the thousands of refugees who had been driven from their homes in the various areas which constituted the battlegrounds of the conflicting armies. As these reports continued to come from various sources some of our people developed a conviction that this need presented an opportunity for the Mennonite Church to give aid to the suffering, to present an effectual testimony for peace, and possibly to prepare the way for the opening up of mission work in a new field.

This conviction grew, and at the annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities, at West Liberty, Ohio, June 12-15, 1937, the Relief Committee presented the need to the Board, which passed an appropriate resolution, favoring the idea and giving guiding principles as to plans and policies. During the summer the Relief Committee kept working on the project and drew up plans for procedure which were submitted to a joint meeting of the Executive, Mission, and Relief Committees of the Mission Board at Elkhart, Ind., Sept. 21, 1937. A special committee then drew up a plan of procedure which was adopted by the joint committees. This plan called for the immediate gathering of relief funds and clothing and approved the sending of two workers to Spain as soon as funds were available. D. Parke Lantz, missionary on furlough, and Levi C. Hartzler, Chicago, Ill., were approved as workers to be sent as soon as conditions were favorable and satisfactory arrangements could be made.

Appeals for funds and clothing were at once sent throughout the church, and generous responses were received. Arrangements were made through the Committee on Spain of the American Friends Service Committee for the use of their permit to enter the country as well as the privilege of using their facilities in carrying on the work in Spain. This eliminated the necessity of making special arrangements with both the United States and the two Spanish governments to enter either Loyalist or Nationalist Spain to do relief work.

Bros. Lantz and Hartzler sailed for Spain from New York on Nov. 3 and arrived in London Nov. 8. After spending a few days there conferring with people who were familiar with conditions in Spain they went to Paris, where they spent a number of days gathering information and visiting American and Spanish officials in order to get the necessary papers to enter Spain and to be assured of safe conduct. They traveled by train from Paris to the border of Spain, which they reached on Nov. 17. They had no difficulty in being admitted and were soon on their way south in Loyalist Spain, with Murcia as their objective as a probable place to begin work. En route they made stops at Barcelona, in the Catalonian region, and in Valencia, both large cities in which there are many refugees and in which relief work is being carried on by various organizations. They reached Murcia on Nov. 23, and at once began to investigate as to possible avenues of service in that region. They adopted this as their headquarters and will conduct their work from there in co-operation with other relief workers already on the field.

The call for both clothing and funds has met a generous response on the part of our people. Clothing was collected at three centers: Lancaster, at Mellinger's meetinghouse; Scottdale, and Elkhart. Over five and one-half tons of clothing, new and used, shoes, and soap were gathered and baled, making a total of 137 bales. The value of these contributions is probably about $11,500.00. One hundred and eight of these have already been shipped. The first shipment was made Nov. 20, and others followed later in November and in the beginning of Dec. The clothing were sorted into heavy and light classifications, the heavy being shipped to the northern and colder sections and the light to the southern regions. The shipments were divided into consignments to Barcelona and Valencia, in Loyalist Spain, and to Bilbao, in Nationalist Spain. Other shipments were scheduled to be made later of the remaining bales of the first collection and of what accumulated later in some of the gathering centers.

Contributions of funds also came in in generous amounts from all quarters of the church and of the more conservative co-operating churches. An illustration as to how the people responded will be seen from the fact that in October $3,775.20 were contributed, while in November $7,199.66 were given to Spanish relief. The mission offerings during these months were also very generous. The Relief Committee had as its objective five months of work in Spain during the coldest period of the year, with a monthly budget for our workers of $2000.00. All indications are that on an average this goal will be reached. The brotherhood is to be commended for the fine way in which they have responded to the call of the needy refugees in Spain. It should be noted that the work is being conducted almost entirely for the benefit of women and children, all of whom are innocent victims of the effects of war.

It is the aim of the Relief Committee to conduct a strictly nonpartisan campaign for the relief of suffering ones of Spain. Our brethren were led to go to Loyalist Spain because of the apparent greater need there, but we hope that at least one of them will be able to enter Nationalist Spain before they finish the work which they have undertaken. It is not an easy task to distribute clothing and food to needy people anywhere, and our brethren in Spain are finding the usual problems in connection with their work. We would ask for them that the Church, in addition to the fine support which they have given in the way of contributions of clothing and funds, the latter of which will be largely used in the purchase of food, should also continually remember them before the throne that they may have wisdom and strength to administer wisely the means of relief at their disposal. HUTCHINSON MENNONITE MISSION AND HOME

By Paul E. Roupp

The work at Hutchinson was started in August, 1931 with Bro. J. F. Brunk as superintendent. A small four-room house was rented in the southeast part of the city and teachers were secured from the Yoder and West Liberty churches to teach in the Sunday school held in the afternoon. At the close of the first year the work had grown to such an extent that it was necessary to find a larger building. A small church building was located not so far away which was rented for the afternoon. The home church used it in the morning. This proved not to be the most satisfactory arrangement. So early in 1933 thirteen vacant lots were bought on the corner of Avenue C. and Pershing Street. By the first of August a basement was ready to dedicate to the Lord and His work.

The work on the mission home was begun late in the fall of 1935. This has been a project of faith. We have only built as funds have been available. The home is within about $300.00 of being completed. All that has gone into the home has been gifts from God's children. Very little has been paid out for labor in building as all the common and much of the skilled labor has been donated by members and friends of the church. The Lord has answered prayers in a wonderful way and we feel that He will continue to bless until the home is completed. We crave an interest in your prayers to this end. The picture gives the east view of the home and Mission Building. You can see from the porch that not all of the outside is finished as well as much of the inside.

As the work continues to grow it will become necessary to build the upper part of the Mission building. The present basement will easily seat the crowds that we now have, but there is not sufficient room for the Sunday school and the various classes. The attendance this year has been as high as 155. We feel that the time is here that we ask the Lord for larger buildings and more room that the work be not hindered in anyway and that it may continue to grow. Hutchinson, Kans.

ACTIVITIES OF EASTERN MENNONITE BOARD OF MISSIONS AND CHARITIES, 1937

By Menno E. Miller

By the blessing of the Lord another profitable year's work is being brought to a close. The seed has been sown and as far as our efforts are concerned the work has been done. Now the results of our labors rest with One who is able to make them bear fruit eternally.

The Board and the various workers again received real joy in their labors among the 25 home stations, the institutions, and the foreign mission fostered or directly controlled by the Board.

Among the home stations in the Board's constituency there are several only indirectly fostered by the Board while the burden of the work at such stations rests upon the local congregations. Among stations in the former class, the Steelton Mission, which was opened and operated by the Elizabethtown and Strickler-Shope congregations, was taken over by the Board during the past year. The work there is very promising with twelve or more members already received.

During the year, a deacon, Elmer Snavely was ordained at Miners Village Mission, and a minister, Noah G. Good, at the Reading Mission. From the ranks of mission workers, Bro. Stoner Krady, pastor of the Vine Street Mission, Lancaster, was ordained bishop for the Lancaster Bishop District.

Bro. Ira Landis wrote a very acceptable book on "The Missionary Movement Among Lancaster Conference Mennonites." This amply illustrated, paper bound book of one hundred nineteen pages was published and distributed by the Board. There was an excellent response. The book is endorsed by the Mission Study Course Committee of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Additional copies may be had by applying at Weaver's Book Store, 40 S. Duke Street, Lancaster, Pa., or at the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa. The price is twenty-five cents.

The work in Tanganyika, Africa, is enjoying abundant blessings. How wonderfully God is penetrating the blackness there and reaching those steeped in sin. A fourth station has been opened during the year and a fifth will be opened before long if He wills. The stations opened thus far are Shirati, Bukiroba, Mugango, and the last opened station, Bumangi. During the year one missionary, Sister Phoebe Yoder, was sent to this field and another couple, Bro. and Sister Ray Wenger, was appointed and will be sent, the Lord willing, very early in the new year.

A very important decision was that of appointing a deputation to Africa to study the work, to give advice, and to do anything, in fact, whereby the work may be better advanced. The brethren to be sent are Bro. Henry Garber, president of the Board, and Bishop Henry Lutz. They plan to leave next April and return in September.

The annual Mission Board meeting was held at Stony Brook Church, York County, Pa., on March 16 and 17.

The Board supported the work of the general Board in sending relief to Spain. Liberal offerings were lifted in the various churches and a very generous gift in clothing amounting to about 150 bales was packed at Mellinger's Church for shipment to this needy field and to western Canada.

The gifts from our constituency indicate that we still have an active interest in the Argentine and India missions. We praise God for this.

With the added undertakings of the year there was a proportionate increase in gifts of money. We cannot give the percentage increase because of the date that this report was written.

May each reader earnestly remember the work of this Board at the throne of grace. God is able to make all grace abound. Millersville, Pa.

THE YEAR 1937 ON THE AFRICAN FIELD

By Elam W. Stauffer

As I think back over the year to write an account of the activities on the field, one of the first things that comes to my mind is that the efforts of the year have been more toward the real purpose of mission work and less toward building and opening stations, as were the first years. By that I do not wish to infer that building and opening stations is not real mission work but rather to remind ourselves that after all these are only carried on so that access may be gained and held whereby folks can be reached and taught the Word. The first activities are easier to write about and to measure progress than the routine work and evangelistic effort that follows, but that does not prove that more has been done. On the contrary, too often it is true that when we can see things happen, we are happy because we can measure progress, but that which is advancement in the cause of Christ is not always measurable by our standards nor always knowable.

I note this now as I turn to write the following account. At Shirati practically no building work was done throughout the year except getting a new church building and a few small boys' houses, but the endeavors there directed to the school, church, and medical activities are not easily estimated nor counted. Yet we see that the Lord is approving His work. The largest school and catechism records are there, and those attending these classes are showing growth and knowledge of the Word. This report would not be true without this mention because it would direct attention to other parts of the field where the natural eye sees more but which may be of less value in heavenly currency. The following shows some of the advances month by month.

January found us still living in a corrugated tin shack at Mugango with the house building in progress. Shenks were at Shirati helping in the work and learning language. School at Bukiroba was closed for the month and the Leathermans were getting ready for the next term while building work there had ceased and the Fersters were at Mugango helping to get the house ready.

In February the house at Mugango was finished and moved in just before the rains came. School was begun here on a small scale as we could care for same. The Teachers' Training School at Bukiroba began the second term. During this month Lois Leatherman arrived and was very welcome in the Leatherman home.

In March the rains were heavy. This meant little travel and outside work.

In April the rains were still heavy and station work was largely school work and such as could be done inside. David Witmer Shenk arrived this month in spite of the rains and found a welcome with Bro. and Sister J. Clyde Shenk.

In May work was begun on the fourth station site at Bumangi. The Fersters and Bro. J. Clyde moved out on to the site and began work. Sister Alta followed later with the baby when there were some better quarters.

June brought the close of our first year of Teacher Training work. We were thankful for this first year and look forward to still further progress. Building work at Bumangi went forward rapidly in two months.

In July our first European-Native Church Conference was held with rich blessing to all. Each missionary individually expressed need for such a meeting and spoke of rich blessing from it. We learned many things that should help us plan and guard in the future from our conference with the native Christians. The Conference was held at Shirati from the eve of July 1 to July 6. The latter part of this month the first invitation was given publicly at Bumangi for those who wished to know the way of salvation and be further taught. Numbers are hard to quote in African for in the catechism class there were about thirty who were finally found to be in earnest enough to enter instruction. We praise the Lord.

In August the first Evangelists' Week was held at Mugango. This is an attempt to instruct and help those outschool evangelists who are trying to shepherd the little flocks throughout Majita. These evangelists have had very little schooling and need much help and guidance. It was appreciated by all who attended and they desire it to continue quarterly.

In September the Shenks moved into their new house at Bumangi and looked forward to spending less time on building and more on study and teaching.

In October school began at Bumangi with good attendance and heavy work for the teachers. Work was resumed at Bukiroba on the Leatherman house. Teacher Training school opened again with one less than last year.

In November Bro. and Sister E. E. Miller and children visited the mission on their way from India to America. Their visit was the occasion for the missionaries to gather at Mugango for a season together in worship, from Nov. 1 (eve) and all day Nov. 2. All could be present except Sisters Mosemann and Hershberger.

What December holds for the cause we cannot tell. We are planning a trip to prospect for station five which may be the total number for our Mission in Musoma District.

One thing further I would mention before closing the year's account is that opportunities for outposts among the people have continued to come to us. Some of these we have tried to claim as we could and in the absence of teachers we have tried caring for them by sending Christians from the stations every Sunday to meet with them and teach them. This has been done from Shirati and Mugango and doubtless will also be done from the other stations in the future. Our present need is for trained native Christians to go out and shepherd the outschools. Pray ye therefore. May all glory be to Christ the Head.

Musoma, Tan. Ter. E. Africa.

"Everything depends on this—to know the will of God in the first place, and then do it."

MENNONITE BOARD OF EDUCATION

By D. A. Yoder

The year 1937 has been one which shows an added interest in the educational work of the church. This interest is shown in the following ways: larger enrollment in all the schools, more support by the church in general, and a noteworthy interest shown in making it possible to keep the schools from having a deficit and in the reduction of the indebtedness.

The added interest in the Bible Department is a continued source of satisfaction. To see the interest taken is a means of spurring us on to make the work larger and better with the hope that this interest results in more and betfer work in the Mennonite Church for the Master.

As we go into different communities, we hear expressions about each and all of the schools after this manner: "We appreciate what the schools are trying to do for our children." "We depend on you to do the best possible for our young people." One member of the ministry said that if it had not been for the influences of the school he doubted whether he would be in the church today. A father said that his daughter after spending two years in school has a better appreciation of the church and she also has a decided interest in church work. A young lady of another denomination who had attended one of our schools one year then one year in a state school returned to the former expressing a desire for the Christian fellowship which she had enjoyed her first year. Expressions of appreciation like the above give us a renewed urge to go on in the work and try to make our schools a larger asset to the church.

Since the schools for a number of years have been operating with a balanced budget and closing the year without deficit, the church has rallied to our support financially. She has given money for current expenses, for debt reduction and also added to the endowment fund both by direct gift and by the annuity plan. We want to take this means of thanking all who have helped, and we earnestly solicit your further support along these lines. Another means of helping by the churches in communities near the schools has been by donations of food supplies in season. Congregations who are willing to help are assigned a week in a given schedule. When their turn comes they bring in food supplies that individuals donate such as flour, butter, eggs, fresh meats, vegetables in season, canned fruits, etc. The question might be asked, "Does this pay?" The answer, "It pays in more ways than one. It creates an added interest in the church, helps in reducing operating expenses, and gives an opportunity of help by way of service."

The statement is often made that some of those who attend church schools are lost to the church. We admit the statement with sorrow, but we must not make this statement without also remembering that many do not leave the church but come back with a decided stand for the church and are giving their lives for her in many fields of service. When we speak of numbers being lost to the church, we must make our comparison fairly. If a census were taken, we believe that proportionately more are lost to the church who have never attended any of our schools than of those who have. Let us put forth our efforts to help save all possible rather than to be discouraged and give up the struggle.

May we as a Board continue at our task with a renewed and united determination to uphold the principles of the Word and the church, even though the task may be hard and long, remembering that the final test is faithfulness. May our prayers and efforts all tend toward magnifying the Name of Him who called us. Elkhart, Indiana.

OUR SCHOOLS

THE WORK OF GOSHEN COLLEGE DURING THE PAST YEAR

By Harold S. Bender

Those responsible for the management of the College at Goshen are happy to look back over a year in which there have been evident the blessings of the Lord upon the labors of the faculty and staff of the institution. It is now forty-three years since the Elkhart Institute was begun and since young people of the Mennonite Church have been gathered together for instruction and training in church schools. We believe we dare say that the past year has been the best of the forty-three in almost every respect, and we are glad to summarize the progress and activity of the year for those who are interested in this phase of the work of the church.

Attendance of students is an important factor in the work of any school since the primary products of the institution are its student graduates. The year 1936-37 brought to Goshen College the largest enrollment in its history, with over 400 (427) different students enrolled in all departments. Of this number 74 were enrolled in the Winter Bible School, while 305 were enrolled as regular or part-time students during the regular year. The Summer Session brought 80 students, the Spring Term 20. The enrollment by college classes was as follows: freshmen 127, sophomores 73, juniors 28, seniors 34, and post-graduates 5. This was an increase of about fifteen per cent over the previous year. The enrollment for the new year 1937-38 shows a further increase. Still more important is the splendid enrollment of Mennonite college students. Six years ago 102 Mennonites were enrolled in college classes, while last year 182 were enrolled, and this year the total will exceed 200 Mennonites. A striking feature of the enrollment of the year 1937-38 is the fact that every Mennonite conference is represented except one, the Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference. The enrollment by conferences is as follows:

Ohio Mennonite and Eastern A. M. 60, Indiana-Michigan 42, Illinois 27, Iowa-Nebraska 15, Missouri-Kansas 13, Southwestern Pennsylvania 15, Lancaster 5, Pacific Coast 7, Franconia 8, Ontario 3, Dakota-Montana 2, Franklin Co., Pa.-Wash. Co., Md.; 1, Virginia 1, India 1.

It is the constant endeavor of the administration of the College to strengthen the work of the institution in every way, educationally, financially, and most of all spiritually. The training of the faculty is being improved, with an increased number of advanced degrees. The total number is also being increased so that during the current year the equivalent of 22 full-time teachers were employed. At present all of the full-time teachers are active members of the Mennonite Church and deeply interested in the cause for which the church stands. Two new teachers were added to the staff in September, 1937, namely, Harold Hartzler of Belleville, Pennsylvania, in Mathematics, and Paul Mininger of Kansas City, Kansas, in Bible. The work of the Bible Department has been particularly strengthened during the past few years, so that at the present time the equivalent of three full-time teachers are employed in this department alone. The enrollment of students in the Bible Department has also gratifyingly increased, both in the Christian Workers' Course and in the regular Bible courses. Beginning with the year 1937-38 all Mennonite students are required to take nine hours of Bible credit work, of which one hour throughout one semester is Mennonite History and Principles. This is a 50% increase over the requirement of last year. At present there are seven candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Theology.

Gratifying progress has been made in the financial stability of the institution. Since 1930 the institution has been operated without a deficit and without borrowing, while in the same period of time almost $20,000.00 has been paid off on the outstanding debt. It is the fixed policy of the institution to incur no further debts and to pay off the existing debt as rapidly as possible. To accomplish this and to represent the cause of the school before the church a full-time field representative has been secured, who plans to visit the churches every year. This appointment was made June 1, 1937. Bro. Irvin E. Burkhart is carrying on this work. The alumni of the college are also increasing their financial support of the school. During the past calendar year they have contributed over $4,000.00 in cash. The total donations from church and the alumni exceeded $10,000.00. This is encouraging as it bespeaks a growing support of the school and an appreciation of its services.

Finally we note progress in spiritual interest and devotion to the cause of Christ and the church. Many problems face the school as 200 Mennonite young people come to us from far and wide, with varying experiences and standards. We are happy to know that the student leadership in the Christian work of the school is growing stronger, and that there is a spirit of ready response to the ideals and principles of the church. The revival meetings conducted in 1936 by Bro. Allen Erb of LaJunta, Colorado, were much appreciated, as were the meetings in October of the current year by Bro. Milton Brackbill, Paoli, Pennsylvania. Very helpful week-end meetings were conducted by Brother A. J. Metzler and Brother Oscar Burkholder.

The Christian Life Conference in mid-winter continues to be a source of much help and inspiration to all. Likewise the Ministers' Week rendered a real service to over forty ministers enrolled.

As we close this brief survey of the year's work we desire to thank all those who have so kindly and faithfully supported our work during the past year by sending us their children as students, by giving us donations, and by helping us through their sincere criticism and heartfelt prayers. We look forward to continued growth and larger service for the cause of Christ and the Mennonite Church through the coming years.

THE PRESENT STATUS OF HESSTON COLLEGE AND BIBLE SCHOOL

By Mary Miller

The enrollment in Hesston College and Bible School is higher than it has been since pre-depression years. Of its 161 students forty are enrolled in the college department and fourteen in the Christian Workers' Course, a training course given largely to advanced students as a preparation for special service in the church. In view of the successive crop failures in the Middle West this increased enrollment is a very encouraging token.

Financially the school is more than keeping above board. Depression grocery bills and back salaries have been paid. All current expenses are being met regularly, buildings are kept up, here and there improvements are being made and equipment added, instructors are receiving more reasonable salaries, and in general, its financial footing seems firm and trustworthy.

The faculty of the school consists of ten men and women, well-trained in their particular fields. Seven of these have Master's degrees. Some plan to further their training during the summer months; others are actively engaged in service for the school and the church during their vacation. The plan is to add annually at least one member to this staff of teachers. The large enrollment in the mid-winter Special Bible Term necessitates the employing of one or more additional instructors during that six-week period. The enrollment for the Special Bible Term last year was ninety-four.

In scholastic standing the school is gradually bettering itself. Only recently, while visiting the institution, a state supervisor raised the rating of the academy from C to A, thus placing us in the front ranks with the better high schools of the state. Prospects also indicate that we may in the near future again receive state accreditment for the Junior College. More funds and increased enrollment in the college department are the requirements insisted upon by state officials. Systematic drives for both funds and students are already under way. Through organized effort we plan to meet the set conditions before another school year opens. This state recognition does not imply any sort of compromise or yielding of principles. Instead, it enables us to offer added advantages to college students who can then get a state teaching certificate by taking either one year or two years of college work. The attitude of the state officials is considerate and encouraging.

The constituency, too, has shown the school evidences of renewed confidence. The people of our section manifest their spirit of good will and confidence by sending in their children, by visiting the school occasionally, by encouraging with gifts and prayers and words of commendation. For such manifestations of good will the faculty of the school is genuinely grateful and we strive prayerfully to merit the assigned trust.

EASTERN MENNONITE SCHOOL

By Chester K. Lehman, Dean

Eastern Mennonite School is celebrating the twentieth anniversary of her founding. The story of her growth as told in catalogues, literature, and school files is one of great interest to her constituency.

The first catalogue announced the first year of academy and English Bible courses respectively together with courses in music. The first faculty was composed of the principal and three teachers, and the school was conducted in the Assembly Park building. This, however, was not the actual beginning of the school. Several years prior to this the movement began in the Warwick River congregation with the view of locating a school there; later sentiment developed for locating it more centrally near Alexandria, Virginia, where one short Bible term was conducted; and finally the present location at Harrisonburg was chosen.

From an initial enrollment of thirty-eight students there has been a steady increase, excepting during the years of the depression, to the present attendance of one hundred eighty-eight. The Special Bible term usually brings an additional hundred students. This year's students come from fifteen states and Canada and include one hundred seventy-five members of the Mennonite Church, and eleven of the Conservative Amish.

The scope of instruction now includes a Bible School, Junior College, High School, and Bible Correspondence School. Six years of Bible study are conducted—two of high-school grade and four of college grade leading to a degree in Bible. Book study forms the core of each curriculum. In addition a wide variety of courses including Bible Geography and History, Biblical Introduction, Christian Theology, Missions, Personal Evangelism, Church History, Christian Education, Archaeology, Biblical Literature, Apologetics, Ethics, New Testament Greek, and others are offered.

The Junior College conducts two years of standard college work including a two-year teacher-training course for the preparation of elementary teachers. Work is offered in the following departments: Art, Bible, Biology, Chemistry, Education and Psychology, English, German, History and Social Science, Latin, Mathematics, and Philosophy.

The high school serves as a finishing school as well as a preparatory school for college entrance. Here also a wide curriculum is offered including among other subjects Art, Bible, Bookkeeping, Typewriting, Oral Expression, Agriculture, Chemistry, Home Economics, German, and Physics.

For the benefit of those who are not able to attend school, eighteen courses are conducted in the Bible Correspondence School. Excepting the Teacher Training Courses, these are of twenty-four lessons each and may be taken individually or in groups. Last year seventy-five students took advantage of these home study courses.

The main Administration building is a four-story structure one hundred twenty by fifty feet with an annex seventy by fifty feet. Art and Home Economics are taught in a separate building. The recreation hall, a new cement block building thirty-five by seventy feet well-equipped for various exercises, is used for physical education. The laboratories are all well equipped for the work conducted.

The present faculty consists of the President and eighteen teachers. A faithful effort has been made to secure teachers who are faithful and able. Every year the faculty give their personal assent to the Eighteen Articles of the Virginia Conference and General Conference. Professionally, the teachers have secured adequate training for their work. At the present, fourteen hold a college degree, of which nine have the Master's degree, four have almost completed work for the doctorate, and one holds that degree.

The School stands four-square for the conservative standards of the church. It is possible to foster high standards of scholarship and at the same time to maintain a deep spiritual atmosphere. It is the burden of the Faculty, the Board of Trustees, and the controlling Conference that the school shall be an asset to the Mennonite Church, championing her doctrines and practices with the confidence that they have their sure basis in the Word of God.

THE YIELDED LIFE

"The angel of the Lord said . . . submit thyself" (Gen. 16:9).

The Lord has never guaranteed to His people that they will be free from hardship or suffering—far from it . . . . But when there is submission of heart the promise is ever true and unfailing: "All life and will, He undertakes, and the things work together for good to them that love God."

"Ill that God blesses is our good,
And unblessed good is ill.
And all is right that seems most wrong,
If it be His sweet will."

PUBLICATION WORK OF THE BOARD AND HOUSE DURING 1937

By C. B. Shoemaker,
Secretary-Treasurer of the House

The biennial meeting of the Mennonite Publication Board was held at the Fairview Church near Albany, Oregon, Aug. 19 and 20, 1937. Since this meeting was held just prior to General Conference, a large number of Board members were able to be present, even though the place of meeting was in the state of Oregon.

The meeting consisted of inspirational discussions of subjects pertaining to the value and distribution of Gospel literature. Reports of the work done through the Mennonite Publishing House and branch stores were also given.

Following is a condensed report covering a two-year period of the financial condition of the Board as brought about by the workings of the House. By donations from the church, and a gradual yearly reduction in loans by the Board and House, and also from earnings, the income has been sufficient to wipe out the debt on the new building which was erected in 1921. We praise the Lord and thank the church that the new building is now free of debt. Future earnings will, in increasing and various ways, be at the service of the church.

Practically each publication has increased in volume during the past two years. Also because of improved economic conditions, many have been able to pay up back subscriptions. Book sales also increased. All of these items taken together make an increased record of work and receipts over former reports.

The list of periodicals published by the House is the same as one year ago, with the following new appointments of editors:

Advanced Lesson Quarterly—Edward Yoder

Junior Lesson Quarterly—Ruth M. Brackbill

A new worker just added to our force of forty is Corona Haarer of Shipshewana, Ind., who will learn typesetting on the Linotype machine, especially taking care of the German work.

Action was taken by the Board authorizing the publication of a Doctrinal Quarterly, to be used supplementary to our Sunday-school lesson quarterlies and adapted to the early adolescent age. Steps are being taken toward the selection of an editor and the publishing of this quarterly during the year.

Recent Book Publications

"Missionary Movement Among Lancaster Conference Mennonites," by Ira D. Landis, primarily historical source book, and secondarily, a Senior Mission Study Course.

"Old Time Revival," by T. K. Hershey, is a 94 page booklet written to stimulate a greater concern for the salvation of the lost, experience a deeper work of grace, encourage intercessory prayer, and thereby usher in an old-time revival. This is the message of the book. May it have a wide circulation.

An additional book in the Mission Study Course is just coming from the press entitled "Exalting Christ in the City," by J. D. Mininger. It is a manual for the guidance of the city mission worker on the field, and an aid to the minister who is eager that his congregation function effectively.

The large book "Martyrs' Mirror" is now about two thirds in type and it is hoped that completion will be reached during 1938.

The new book "Mennonite Cyclopedic Dictionary" by Daniel Kauffman came from the press about mid year 1937 and is finding a ready sale among the brotherhood. Many favorable comments have been received as to its distinctive information and usefulness. Nearly one third of the first edition has been sold in six months. Those who have examined the book say it should be in every Mennonite home.

A book of historical interest was published by the Franconia Mennonite Historical Society, with John C. Wenger as author and editor, entitled "History of the Mennonites of the Franconia Conference." It is a large 524 page book giving General History, Congregational History and History of Activities of the Mennonites of Franconia District in Eastern Pennsylvania.

"Life Songs No. 2" is now ready for delivery. The Music Committee as appointed by General Conference have made a selection of songs of the better and more spiritual type. It is one of the very best songbooks of its kind on the market, and should supply a real need among our congregations. There seems to be a great demand as it is now twenty-two years since "Life Songs No. 1" was published.

No small part of our regular work is the editing, printing, and mailing of our Sunday school lesson quarterlies, eleven titles totaling over 130,000 copies per quarter. The recent changes and additions of these quarterlies for the children's division have met with favor throughout the church, because they supply the need of closer graded and better adapted helps.

To speed production on these quarterlies as well as books, a large three-knife cutting machine has been installed recently at a cost of $3,750.00, weighing five and one-half tons. This machine trims three sides of a book at one time, whereas the former machine trimmed only one side. Therefore this part of the work should be expedited in about one-third the time and with a more accurate alignment.

With increasing work comes increased responsibility to our constituency whom we serve. As we face the realities and opportunities of another year, we breathe a prayer to God that each of us connected with this work may be true to Him who has called us to this service and fill our respective spheres in a way that is pleasing to Him and upbuilding to the cause.

THE OLD PEOPLE'S HOME

By S. E. Allgyer

About the year 1897, the Lord impressed Bro. D. C. Amstutz, a consecrated bishop of the Crown Hill Church in Wayne Co., Ohio, with the need of an Old People's Home in the Mennonite Church. Up to this date there was no institution of this kind in our branch of the church. After due consideration Bro. Amstutz decided to will his farm of 155 acres to the church for the purpose of erecting an Old People's Home on the farm. The church accepted the proposition, and the Mission Board then in existence built the proposed Home, which was dedicated May 1, 1901. This institution cared for a number of people who were in need of help. Daniel Amstutz, brother of the donor, served as the first superintendent. Others serving in this same capacity were Joseph Brunk, J. G. Wenger, J. D. Mininger, E. F. Hartzler, J. Y. Hooley, P. R. Lantz, and J. M. Nissley. On the night of Dec. 30, 1918, the home burned to the ground. At this time there were twenty eight inmates in the home. These were placed in different homes, until the new Home for the Aged was built near Eureka, Ill., in 1922. When this building was completed most of the inmates still living who were in the former home were brought to this institution. This company was composed of aged, helpless, crippled folks who were greatly in need of help. Those who witnessed this scene, as they were brought from the railroad depot to the home, "many of them being donors," were greatly impressed with the need, and were made to think, that the money spent for the home was a good investment.

In 1936 this home had reached its capacity. Consequently the need for more room was apparent. Steps were taken by the Mission Board to rebuild the former home that had burned to the ground. The Ohio and Eastern A. M. Joint Conference was consulted concerning rebuilding of this former home at its regular session at the Martins Church in Wayne County, Ohio, May 25-27, 1936. The decision was favorable. The farm that had been donated to the Church for a home was still in the hands of the Board. Among the several factors making this location desirable are the paved roads, the nearness of the Crown Hill Church and a number of other Mennonite Churches, and a prosperous community.

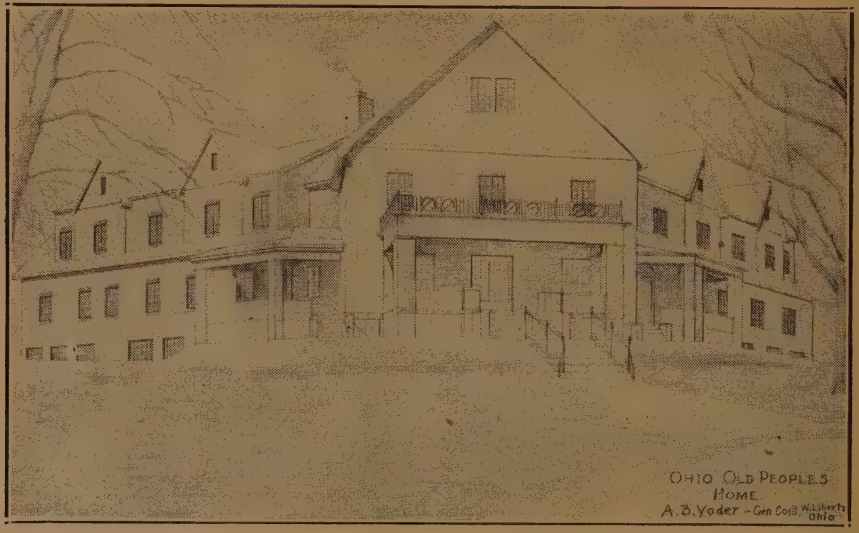
Plans were made to build a frame structure at an estimated cost of $20,000. The Board had $10,000 available, and if an equal amount could be raised, the project would be undertaken. The writer was instructed by the Board to proceed to solicit funds. We are very thankful to state that the desired amount and even more was raised, and we wish again to extend our gratitude to all who made this possible.

After more definite plans were made we found that the State requirements would not permit the kind of building we had in mind at the first. Consequently it became necessary to build a fireproof building which would pass state inspection and would be satisfactory in the end. Because of this change and because of the high cost of labor and material, the building will cost more than double the amount at first planned. Every precaution was taken to keep the cost down as low as possible. Since the present building is much more substantial in every way, the upkeep will certainly be much less, and the Home will be more satisfactory, in general, and will be a greater asset to the church and to the community. We are convinced the change has been well worth while. Folks are waiting to get into this home, and some workers are ready to do their part, and our Sisters' Sewing circles are busy making bedding, but the building is incomplete. The present plans, if funds can be secured, are to finish only the basement and the first floor, which would make room for at least twenty people, workers included. This would be sufficient for a number of years before the second floor would need to be finished. The question is, Shall the building stop? Can the Lord depend on you? Or will He say to us sometime, "I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not. . . . Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of the least of these, ye did it not unto me." "He that hath pity on the poor lendeth to the Lord."



The New Home as It Will Appear after It Is Completed. We Need More Funds. Will You Help?

Both the Mission Board Executive Committee and the Conference thought the time to build was here. Were we mistaken? Does the Lord desire to have this building unfinished when souls are waiting to come in? Is this not an opportunity to lay up treasures in heaven? If so, it certainly is a good investment. I am indeed sorry that it has become necessary to make this appeal for more financial help. May we do as we will wish we had done, when we give an account of our stewardship.

THE COMMISSION FOR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND YOUNG PEOPLE'S WORK

By A. J. Metzler

Previous to 1915 there were several general Sunday-school conferences held in the Mennonite Church. However, there was no central organization for sponsoring this work. The General Conference held in 1915 in Fulton County, Ohio, approved of a constitution and founded the Mennonite General Sunday School Committee. This was responsible for the general supervision and promotion of Sunday-school work.

In 1909, the Young People's Topic Committee was established by General Conference. Its primary task was to work out a list of topics and outlines each year for Young People's Bible Meetings throughout the church. These topics and outlines were published in booklet form and in several other regular publications by the Mennonite Publishing House.

In 1923 the Young People's Problems Committee was established by General Conference. Its work was to study problems confronting young folks of the church and to develop ways and means to meet these problems for the church through her various conferences and institutions. Among other services rendered, this committee prepared and published articles and had prepared a book on Literary Societies. One of the most practical services rendered was launching some of the first Young People's Institutes in different sections of the church. The Institute work was later carried on largely by district conferences.

The work of the General Sunday School Committee increased until its scope of activities included Sunday schools, teacher-training classes, summer Bible schools, as well as co-operating with other church agencies in the field of missionary education and several other related activities of Christian educational nature. Due to this larger field of activities and some question regarding the form of organization, the following action was included in the committee's regular report to General Conference at Hesston in 1933.

"Whereas the work of our committee in recent years, through the Summer Bible Schools and other activities of similar nature, has entered into a greatly enlarged field, and since other problems have come up in connection with our organization and work; therefore be it

"Resolved, That we appeal to General Conference that some action be taken to provide for a study of our work in the light of present needs and that we express ourselves as being willing to co-operate in any way in the study of these problems with a view of working out a solution for them."

General Conference in turn gave this request to the Interboard Committee. The latter committee studied this problem at a meeting in June, 1934, and appointed a subcommittee of three —J. A. Ressler, O. O. Miller, and A. J. Metzler. After the death of Bro. Ressler, Bro. I. E. Burkhart served as his successor to give time for research, careful study, and formulating the best plan to care for this work. This committee worked for a little more than three years, having several meetings and having counselled a large group of representative leaders by correspondence and in informal group meetings. After reporting several times to the Interboard Committee and receiving further instructions, the following plan was finally adopted by General Conference at Turner, Oregon, August, 1937.

Briefly, the Commission consists of twelve men, six appointed by General Conference, one each by the three general church boards, and three by the Commission itself. In a general way, this Commission is responsible for the co-ordination, promotion, and supervision of Christian educational agencies operating in the local congregation or outside of centralized church schools which are under the control of the Mennonite Board of Education.

The commission is organized with an Executive Committee of chairman, vice chairman, secretary-treasurer, and fourth and fifth members. There is a secretary in charge of each of the following divisions of the work: Sunday School, Summer Bible School and Week-day Bible School, Teacher's Training, Young People's Meeting, Young People's Institutes, and Young People's Problems. The Executive Committee and all secretaries will be served by a General Secretary who will be responsible for field work and general promotion.

The Commission meets semiannually. It plans to work in the form of a cabinet with each officer bringing his report and the whole commission sitting for that phase of the work.

There will probably be little occasion for subcommittees with this method of work. However, one important part of the work will be carried on by a Curriculums Committee of five, three to be appointed by the Commission and two by the Publishing House. This committee will serve the Commission by constantly studying ways and means of improving courses of study, serving the entire field of elementary Christian education. They will also be asked to select or prepare texts for these courses.

In the way of organization, this has been one of the largest steps taken by General Conference in recent years. By those who are intimately in touch with this phase of the work of the church, it is felt to be a very practical and constructive step forward. However, there is very much to be done in perfecting the organization and in developing of plans for work. The Commission hopes to co-operate with district organizations so that ultimately this body, responsible for the Christian educational and young people's work in the church in general, will be duplicated with a similar unit in each conference and in turn in each congregation.

POSITIVE NONRESISTANCE

By S. F. Coffman

This title is rather paradoxical, but it is necessary that this negative term should be appreciated from the positive viewpoint. The negative attitude toward resistance is only one of the proper attitudes of the Christian toward the forces that contact his life and test the desirable character of Jesus Christ which controls him. The positive action of the Christian is the compelling force of his life, while the negative attitude is the restraining influence of his new nature.

Just why the doctrine of refraining from the use of force should have been described with a negative term may be appreciated by noticing Christ's instructions to the disciples and others when teaching on the mountain, when He said, "Resist not evil" (Matt. 5:30). In His teachings following this statement Jesus plainly taught a positive attitude of love and good will. Paul also gave the attitude of believers toward the evils which others might afflict upon them in a negative sense. "Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves" (Rom. 12:19).

The particular application of the term nonresistance applies primarily to the Christian's attitude toward the use of carnal weapons, and to military service in particular. The name of this attitude, as it is understood by our church, is used to describe a doctrine of the church. It is made to apply to those people who hold this Christian principle or doctrine, since they are called nonresistant people. Other terms have been used to describe the faith or the people who hold to this attitude toward the use of force and toward military service. Some are called "Defenseless," and some are called "Weaponless." This has resulted perhaps from the German terminology "Wehrlos" and "Waffenlos" by which the European ancestors were described.

Quite different are some of the titles used to describe those who have taken an aggressive attitude against military service. Such are "War Resisters," "Anti-War League" and other unions opposing war. Besides these negative and positive attitudes against the use of force and warfare, there are organizations which express the encouragement of attitudes opposite to those of force and war. Such are called "Pacifist" and "Peace" movements. The term nonresistant has been applied to our faith and practice and has been thus attached to us for many years. It describes our attitude toward the powers of oppression and enmity which might be used against us, but it does not describe our attitude toward those who use the forces of war and oppression. That attitude must be expressed in a positive manner, and there is but one term that could express it—Christian Love.

Nonresistance, in its practical application, has a larger significance than that of a passive attitude toward the forces of evil or oppression. In the first place, it discourages antagonism. "But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also. And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain. Give to him that asketh, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away." In each one of these cases the nonresistance of the individual is encouraged, whether against the use of force or the use of law, or the simple nature of a request. There is to be no resistance against the will or wish of the other person who forces or requests. Instead of the resistance there is to be a yielding to the request, and even more than that which is demanded is to be given. The latter is the positive position of the nonresister. But the fact that there is no resistance affords the occasion to remove the antagonism.

It is not the case that oppression or evil is exercised only where antagonism exists; but the absence of opposition often ends the oppression, particularly so when the spirit of love is shown. "If thine enemy hunger, feed him; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head" (Rom. 12:20).

The Lord would teach His followers that one way to escape the troubles which make life so unbearable when the avarice and greed of men is so manifest, is to bear oppression. Give double when men would exact from them. He does not even suggest that one should endeavor to protect his own possessions. Under the law it would have been possible to recover that which was taken away, for the law allowed "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth." But Paul teaches that there should be no recompense for evil (Rom. 12:17). These are the teachings of the Word of Christ.

The principle of nonresistance recognizes that there is oppression and opposition in the world, and that the Christian may not hope to escape his portion of such affliction in life. But his attitude toward such trials should differ from that of other men. Isaiah 53 gives the attitude of Christ toward afflictions that came to Him unjustly. "He opened not his mouth." As he bore afflictions so are His followers to bear them. He did not escape the trials by His forbearance and patience, neither will the Christian. He must recognize the existence of evil in the world, but he should use the occasion of them to reveal the character of Him whose follower he is. That is one method of revealing the Light to the world.

The practice of nonresistance is a means of avoiding the expression of anger and hatred. "Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord" (Rom. 12:19). Vengeance is the recompensing of evil for evil, and this is not in the nature of the Christian life. Vengeance in the hands of man is often unjust. David prayed not to be delivered into the hands of his enemies, but was willing to abide under the visitation of an affliction sent from God. He knew that God would be just; men are not inclined to be just in the heat of passion, in the visitation of vengeance. The avoidance of vengeance would, therefore, be a dual blessing; avoiding the overestimation of the wrong, and avoiding the excess of the vengeance. God is always able to reckon the amount of the evil and will not exceed the degree of vengeance in recompense. In order to escape the tendencies of human weakness and passion, the Lord requires that His followers do not avenge themselves. If any man would exceed the recompense of a wrong, he would again make himself liable to the judgment of God. Why should those who are freed from judgment provoke God to another judgment by wrong doing?

The negative attitude toward personal wrongs and oppressions is of benefit to the follower of Christ by removing the possibility of antagonism, by showing an attitude that will not provoke the oppressor, and by refraining from the injustices that often result from the expression of hatred and passion. But the negative attitude is not the strongest quality of the Christian character. We might have a warless world by having all men take a negative attitude toward war; but at the same time we might have the calamity of a world without love,—the kind of love that suffers wrong, bears reproach, is full of sympathy, and gives itself for the good of others. It is love that creates happiness. It is the love of God in Christ which the Christian is enjoined to reveal to the world.

Respect to governments and respect for all government is one of the expected traits of the Christian life (Rom. 13). Government is of God. All governments may not be of God, for some are very much opposed to God. But because of the fact that government is essentially a divine institution, the followers of Christ honor all governments and submit themselves to the ordinances of man. They honor kings and rulers, for they undertake duties that are intended to restrain the evil and promote the good. That is the purpose of all government. It is only where the ordinances of man contravene or conflict with the law of God that the question of Christian duty should ever arise. And it is a fact that methods of government are not uniform, and not all men agree on methods. This enters into the field of politics and party government to which all men or citizens are to be at least for the time being. Jesus was subject to such government and paid His tribute money in the customary manner. But it is certain that He held His kingship as supreme over the Jews. Herod was the nominal king of the Jews. When Jesus was asked, "Art thou the king of the Jews?" His reply was, "Thou sayest it." With respect to the higher authority of Christ over all kings, the citizens of His kingdom render allegiance to Him when any conflict arises between the laws of the world and the law of God.

The Christian's duty to government is very clear. "Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers" (Rom. 13:1). "Render therefore to all their dues: tribute . . . ; custom . . . ; fear . . . ; honour" (Rom. 13:7). "I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty. For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour" (I Tim. 2:1-3). "Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work, to speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness to all men" (Tit. 3:1, 2). This attitude toward governments and rulers is more than nonresistant. It is positive in its honor, respect, and submission, and it is active in every good work.

Love is the active principle in the Christian life. In the same chapter (Titus 3), the apostle follows with the description of the nature of the Christian life. "But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared." It is this love and kindness which is shed abroad in the heart that regulates the Christian's life toward all men. Government is an institution of and for men. To those men and to their directions the Christian should have respect. To them love should be shown as well as to all other men.

Through the propaganda of our day much that is slanderous and evil is launched against governments and against the men who compose the government. If the Christian church expects to hold the respect and confidence of governments, it must be the result of Christian spirit and conduct on the part of members of the church. A certain woman continued bringing her petition to a certain judge until he granted her petition. "Lest she weary me," he granted it; not because of her evil speaking and reproaches which might have threatened his removal from office. In earlier days our people petitioned the government concerning the slavery question, and frequently presented their stand regarding military service, but no threats nor agitations were used to gain their ends. They did not meddle with the affairs of the rulers, whose disrespect might thus have been incurred. Honor and respect to all governments should be the motto of the Christian church which is a pilgrim institution in this world, receiving their favors or their oppositions, but not dependent upon governments for the maintenance of her heavenly citizenship. The best the church may receive through her prayers and intercessions for governments, is the privilege of leading a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

"Thou shalt not kill," is the divine safeguard for all human life. It is with respect to this law of God that the church comes into difficulties with governments. This law is written in both the Old and New Testaments. The greatest teacher against the destruction of human life was Jesus, the Son of God. The Church has no other commission for man from God but that of love. Laws of men have never nullified the laws of God. It is because of this that the conflict rises between the church and governments. The Church can give due respect to the men who make laws ordering military service, but at the same time the Christian may respectfully say that his higher duty is toward God who says, "Thou shalt not kill," and to Christ who says, "Love your enemies."

The believer is saved from death by the forgiveness of his sins. Shall he, like the unfaithful forgiven servant, return vengeance upon another fellow servant? It is the business of the Christian to love and forgive and to make use of the greatest weapons in the providence of God. The weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but spiritual and mighty. Is the Christian church making use of these weapons in these days of stress; or is she allowing prejudices to grow and vengeance to brood in the heart by musing upon the events that are reported for public perusal? The church has always become weakened by yielding to popular influences and methods. Her natural enemies may be most quickly overcome by good will and by prayer.

In the field of fellowships among men, the Christian has the rare privilege of manifesting the spirit of Christ and His love. There are five things which may become a part of Christian living which will always result in good. They are as follows: (1) Showing mercy. (2) Giving due honor and respect. (3) Not exacting from others. (4) Speaking no evil. (5) Provoking no wrath. The first two are positive, the last three are negative, and may be dependent upon the proper exercise of the former two.

In the fellowship of the church is the most natural place for the expression of Christian virtues and the place where they should be most appreciated by others. Perhaps it is the case that virtues are much more exacted by one's brethren than by others, and when these virtues are not forthcoming in their fullness, brethren take offense and resistance and ill will result. In the Christian church forbearance should be one of the jewels of Christian character. Christian love which makes forbearance possible is the bond of perfectness and the foundation of peace.

As in the church so also in one's daily life there are many occasions for the manifestation of the principle of nonresistance. In the first place, no Christian should allow occasions to develop which will cause others to take an opposing or hateful attitude toward him. Suffer wrong rather than allow an occasion that will effect a wrong attitude or deed. Christians should not allow their love for worldly goods to destroy their store of spiritual love. The proper use of love and of charity in business will prevent the need of being nonresistant for the resistance need not occur.

Since the Christian church is placed in the world among men, her influence is expected to be exerted under all circumstances and in all places. It has been said that neighbors have endeavored to provoke people who profess a nonresistant faith. The faith should prove its testing, no matter what the occasion of its testing. The Christian's life is not of this world, it is the life of Christ from heaven. Since we are born from above, the life should not be affected by the ways of the world. It may be true that some men take advantage of a man of love and peace. If the oppressed one proves his character, it is no loss, for his faith will be found more precious than gold though it be tried by fire.

But the Christian, by living his positive Christian life, may shine more brightly in the avoiding of the hates and oppositions which arise as a result of a neglect of Christian courtesies and duties. Why not avoid the rivalries and jealousies in the social world by giving

1937 REPORT OF SUMMER BIBLE SCHOOLS IN THE MENNONITE CHURCH

The reports from the various conference districts have been very gratifying, and the wholehearted co-operation of the district secretaries is much appreciated. It was through the faithful response of the secretaries and superintendents of the various Summer Bible Schools that the district secretaries could give their reports; and it is because of the united co-operation of so many who are interested in this form of Bible teaching that we are enabled to give you the following interesting facts.

No. of Summer Bible Schools definitely reported	128
No. Schools reported but without facts 2—TOTAL SCHOOLS	130
(Statistics following based on 128 schools)
Enrollment in above schools	16,994
Average Attendance	14,210
Number of Teachers	1265
Expenses	$3,894.02
Missionary Offerings (Lanc. Conf. no report)	$689.62
Range of pupil ages	2½ to 21 years
Adult age range up to	80 years
Number of 3-week term schools	18
Number of 2-week term schools	105
Number of 1-week term schools	1
Saturday p. m. & Sunday evening schools, 1 each	2
No report on length of term	1
Number from Mennonite homes (Lanc. Conf. no report)	5503
Number from other homes (Lanc. Conf. no report)	7921
Number in High-school Classes (Lanc. & S. W. Pa. Conf. no report)	516
Number adults (Ont., Lanc. & S. W. Pa. no report)	134
Denominations other than Mennonite represented	20

While this report may be considered quite accurate, there is a possibility that some of the schools have not reported. If a margin of 10 were allowed for such, the total number of Summer Bible Schools may actually be 140 or even more.

Number of Schools in Various Districts

Comparative Facts

In 1935 reports were received from 103 schools, with a total enrollment of 11,500.

In 1936 reports were received from only 94 schools, though there were likely held about 125 schools according to sales information from our book department. The total enrollment of the 94 schools was 13,472. This was about 2,000 higher than the enrollment of 1935 in 103 schools. The number of teachers for 1936 was 964.

In 1937 there are reported 130 schools, but 2 give no statistics; so the statistics must be reckoned on 128 schools. Likely there were held in all a number more than the 130 schools reported. The enrollment for the 128 schools was 6 short of 17,000. The total expenses were $3,894.02 or an average cost per pupil, on a basis of 17,000 enrollment, of 23 cents. Notice that 1,265 teachers gave their service to this work.

UNAFFILIATED MENNONITE CONGREGATIONS

The following is a list of ministers of various bodies of Mennonites who adhere to the tenets of the Confession of Faith adopted by the Mennonites at Dortrecht in 1632, but have not affiliated themselves with any of the organized conferences. If we are privileged to prepare future issues of this work, we shall be glad to add to this list as we secure information enabling us to do so.

proper honor and respect to others? Why not avoid the ill will and hatred which results from self-seeking and avarice, by being generous and sacrificing in one's neighborly transactions? Why not go beyond the limits of duty, even beyond the Christian expectations, and promote the honor of the Christian life and character by even giving one's self for the good and happiness of others?

The zeal of a cause may at times be its own undoing. "Charity vaunteth not itself; is not puffed up." A government may become provoked to an unsympathetic attitude toward nonresistance by the constant insistence of peace advocates in promoting their programs. The world may lose its respect for the advocates of peace by hearing much of their claims and finding but little of their character. The church will grow stronger in her testimony by living the life of love, and the doctrine of nonresistance will speak for itself.

CHURCH MEMBER BEATITUDES

Blessed is he who will not strain at a drizzle and swallow a downpour.

Blessed is he who tries a little harder when all around say, "It can't be done."

Blessed is he whose program contains prayer meeting night.

Blessed is he who serves faithfully on a committee.

Blessed is the church official who is not pessimistic.

Blessed is he who loves his church before his business.

Blessed is he who can walk as fast to a religious service as to town.

Blessed is he who invites people to church and comes along himself.

Blessed are those who never gossip about the faults of the church, but work to make it better.—Religious Telescope.

There is nothing more sublime than the simple power which the Holy Ghost gives to the humblest saint, and the ministry of prayer enables the lowliest child of God to exercise.—Dr. A. B. Simpson.

MENNONITE HISTORICAL REFERENCE WORKS

CENTENNIAL HISTORY OF THE MENNONITES OF ILLINOIS: 1829-1929

By Harry F. Weber

In a volume of almost 700 pages, the author traces in detail the history of the Mennonites of Illinois from the very first settlement in 1829, now more than a hundred years ago, down to the present time. He has spared no pains in preparing an accurate survey of the early prairie settlements, and traces the growth of these early settlements into the large communities with hundreds of members supporting active church organizations and charitable institutions. The story includes interesting accounts of pioneer life, together with a description of the growth of the pioneer religious life and organization of the newly arrived Mennonite immigrants from Alsace and South Germany into religious organizations with Sunday Schools, mission enterprises, young people's activities, and the like.

This volume is exhaustive, not only in covering all the nine branches within the state, but also in giving a detailed account of every congregation and institution in the various branches. The volume is encyclopedic in character, and will without doubt remain the standard work in its field. Its usefulness is much increased by maps, illustrations, statistical tables, a biographical appendix, and several extensive indices.

MENNONITES OF LANCASTER CONFERENCE

By Martin G. Weaver

The author has spared no time or expense in gathering the historical matter necessary for a publication of this kind. The original purpose of this work, as related by the author, was to make a record and a comparison of the growth or decline of the many Mennonite Congregations in Lancaster County, and to compile a complete list of all bishops, ministers, and deacons with the dates and terms of service, as well as to record the location of the early meetinghouses and the dates of their erection, ending with the list of the present congregations, Sunday schools, and other departments in the service of God, as conducted by the church. This purpose has been accomplished with added historical matter of general interest.

The material is arranged by Bishop Districts and can readily be understood by all. The enlarged chapter on Sunday Schools, Missions and Charitable Institutions in the Conference district is of more than passing interest.

A chapter is devoted to the work of the Lancaster Conference. This is of vital importance and will be of interest to the entire Mennonite church body. Other Mennonite bodies located within the borders of the Lancaster Conference District are included in the history in a brief way. A chapter is devoted to the list of Church leaders in other Mennonite conferences who came originally from Lancaster Conference. Practically all the leading conferences in the United States and Canada have been affected by this emigration in earlier years.

A complete record is given of ordinations of bishops, ministers, and deacons with dates of death and ages within the Lancaster Conference District.

The book contains about 550 pages including 47 illustrations. Some of the early landmarks as well as a number of the present meetinghouses are shown by the illustrations. Size of pages 5¾ by 8¼ inches. Bound in cloth with side and back stamps in gold.

A NEW BOOK

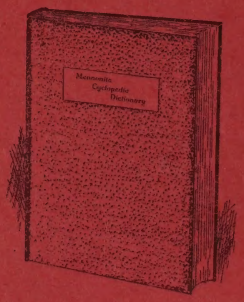
First of Its Kind in Mennonite Literature

Mennonite Cyclopedic Dictionary

Daniel Kauffman, Editor, assisted by many brethren.

A compendium of the doctrines, history, activities, literature, and environments of the Mennonite Church, especially in America.

It brings together and makes available in alphabetical arrangement a wealth of information regarding events, Christian doctrine, institutions, conferences, families and other items of interest to every Mennonite.



One very interesting feature of the book is its nearly 1000 biographical sketches of Mennonite leaders and Mennonite families in America; also four or five hundred places of historic interest are described.

The editor says, "Our aim has been to present information that is accurate, true to facts, brief yet complete; arranged in a convenient way, so that anyone desiring to have information concerning any point bearing on Mennonitism may find in a few minutes what he wants."

Four hundred twelve pages are taken up with the Dictionary proper. Then follows the Appendix, consisting of three main topics, namely: (1) Mennonite Centers of Population with illustrative maps; (2) Source Material used in the compiling of the book; (3) Fifty Fundamental Doctrinal Facts with brief analysis of each.

The publishers believe that this book will render a very valuable service to the Church. But this is only possible as it gets out into the individual homes. Therefore we solicit the interest and co-operation of the leadership of the Church in bringing this book to the attention of our people.

Testimonials

"It fills a real place in the literature of our Church"—Ira D. Landis.

"It will be a very valuable book that should be found in the library of every Mennonite home"—A. J. Steiner.

"You have placed the entire brotherhood and all succeeding generations of young Mennonites deeply in debt to you for your valuable, painstaking work"—John Umble.

"I find it a most interesting and valuable contribution to Mennonite history"—C. Henry Smith.
